

At club meetings

Members are encouraged to interact, share their knowledge, improve their skills, and learn new techniques.

'Show and tell' is when members share their recent work, invite comment, and seek advice in a supportive environment.

We often have demonstrations, usually by club members, where interesting ideas and techniques are explained and shown.

We also have sharpening equipment for chisels that members can access and use.

Introduction to Woodturning Workshops

We provide these Workshops periodically. These 2 day courses are intended to safely introduce beginners to the joy of woodturning, take home some finished pieces, and let the woodturning bug bite.

Numbers are limited to ensure lots of attention for each participant.

Application forms and more information is available from our website.

Meetings

Club meetings are held at least monthly.

The details are posted on our website.

Visitors welcome.

Promoting woodturning and fine woodworking

Who we are

The Hills Woodworkers (HWI) is a community focused not-for-profit club.

Our overall objective is to promote woodturning and fine woodworking in the community. We do this in a friendly and supportive way.

We are inclusive of all levels of knowledge, experience, gender, and age. We are all passionate about wood, its beauty, and what can be done with it.

We support all forms of wood working including woodturning, box making, joinery, carving, scrollwork, chair making and pyrography.

New members, beginners, and more experienced, are welcome.

Other activities

The club regularly attends local shows. This allows us to do demonstrations, get some profile and encourage new members, and provides members with the opportunity to sell their products.

Recently, we have supported the Mt Pleasant Show, the Hahndorf Imagine History Days, and the Uraidla Show.

The club sometimes meets at other venues, such as in expert's workshops, or goes on excursions.

Learn a traditional skill

You can make lovely gifts for family and friends as well as get the pleasure of creating beautiful pieces from wood.

Your pieces may be turned or other forms of woodwork such as boxes and boards. They may also incorporate scrollwork or pyrography or other features you can choose.

Expand your horizons with us

The boundaries of woodworking and woodturning continue to expand with new techniques, tools and materials.

Come and be part of that.
